[SHOOTER NAME] Gunning For National Shooting Title

CITY, State - [SHOOTER], of [CITY], will be facing off against the nation's top shooters at the U.S. Practical Shooting Association's 2008 National Championships. The competition takes place [DATE] at the United State Shooting Academy in Tulsa, Oklahoma.

[SHOOTER], who is sponsored by [SPONSOR'S NAME], will compete in the [DIVISION NAME] Division against [# OF SHOOTERS COMPETING IN THIS DIV.] other top guns for the coveted title of USPSA National Champion.

"[QUOTE FROM SHOOTER]" said [NAME].

Practical Shooting is the most dynamic of the shooting sports and is often referred to as 'Run & Gun' for its fast paced shoot on the move format. During competition a shooter can expect to face several stages, or courses of fire, comprised of a variety of targets and obstacles which he or she must navigate in the shortest period of time with the highest degree of accuracy.

The United States Practical Shooting Association established in 1976 is the governing body of Practical Shooting in the U.S. With 350 affiliated clubs and over 16,000 members, USPSA is the largest competitive pistol organization in the U.S. providing competitive shooting opportunities for shooters of all ages and skill levels.
